Supporting NHS Trusts with business insight and solutions

With ever increasing pressure to improve quality and efficiency, we can help Trusts to understand their organisation from a fundamentally different perspective and obtain insights that can provide opportunities for improved performance and greater efficiency.

Our specialist knowledge and expertise in implementing performance management and costing solutions developed over 25 years, is now helping over 20 NHS Trusts face the challenges associated with the drive for greater efficiency and performance improvement using methods such as Patient Level Costing, Service Line Reporting, Service Line Management, Reference Costing and Balanced Scorecards.

Working with Bellis-Jones Hill

We recognise that implementing the changes required to improve performance is rarely easy, so we are able to work closely with Trusts on the internal engagement and skills transfer required to deliver long term improvements in quality and efficiency.

By working with over 20 Trusts, we have developed an ever expanding knowledge base and can also provide our clients with different ways to share best practice. We have produced a range of NHS case studies and white papers and we facilitate a thriving Healthcare Costing User Group which provides a regular forum for our Clients to discuss and develop best practice in Modelling, Costing, Service Line Reporting and Service Line Management.

Delivering Quality and Efficiency together

Our solutions can bring quality and cost information together to provide one comprehensive view of potential opportunities to improve efficiency.

Understanding why something costs what it does enables a Trust to understand its business model and identify actionable opportunities for improvement. Our Prodacapo Service Line Management System provides the means for Trusts to really understand what is driving performance in their organisation, enabling finance and clinical teams to work together with the reliable information and insights required to make and implement informed decisions.
