

Corporate Performance Management software suite

A complete suite of solutions to major business challenges that face every organization

The Prodacapo software suite for Corporate Performance Management is a fully integrated and modular suite of world-class applications that helps your executives, business managers and staff get the insights and information they need to rapidly and continuously improve organizational performance and achieve results.

The suite includes applications for Activity-Based Costing/ Management, Business Planning, Balanced Scorecard and Business Process Management to help your organization overcome the major challenges it faces. With the Prodacapo software suite you can:

- Identify which products, services, customers, and channels are truly profitable and get insight into why they are profitable - or not. This enables you to take the right actions to increase profitability.
- Identify the true cost per process, product, service, customer or channel. And, more importantly, see the root causes of costs. This enables you to make fact-based decisions to reduce costs.
- Communicate strategy, targets and plans to people at all levels and monitor and manage performance across the organization. With a clear view of goals and results, everyone can make better decisions.

- Explore “What if?” scenarios to support strategic and tactical decision-making.
- Map, analyze and improve business processes to increase efficiency, quality and customer-focus.

Only Prodacapo delivers this breakthrough performance management in a single system.

Key features

Start as you need. Each application can work alone or in combination with the other applications. This flexibility means you can start to use one or several applications to address the challenges you face. You can later add more as your needs evolve.

Easy to deploy, easy to use. You can rapidly and cost-effectively deploy a Prodacapo application out-of-the box and easily tailor it to meet your specific needs. The solutions require a minimum of training and are easy to use.

Integrate with your existing IT systems. Prodacapo applications are open solutions that integrate with your existing transaction (ERP) systems, legacy systems, data warehouses and other data sources. Prodacapo doesn't replace or rebuild your existing systems - it works together with them.

Implement locally or globally. The Prodacapo applications are based on proven technology. This means you can start to install them locally and then easily scale and deploy them across all your departments, business units and locations later on.

Increase user adoption. Prodacapo provides a consistent user interface across all applications. This makes it easier for you to achieve a widespread user adoption of corporate performance management throughout your organization.

Reduce cost of ownership. Every organization need more than one system to run their business, but by limiting the number of systems you can ease maintenance and reduce costs.

All Prodacapo applications can run on the same database offering a single point of administration, security and maintenance. It also enables data sharing between the applications without the need for integration. This helps you reduce the cost of systems management and ownership, compared with using solutions from multiple vendors.
